New Business

Carl Brunick and Richard Shafer joined the Committee to expand on the subject of students with BIPs who have gone to ALC. They furnished the Committee with handouts which provided data on students in grades 6 – 12 who have gone to ALC in the past four years. That information was broken down into reasons why students with and without BIPs have gone to ALC. Of the several reasons for going to ALC the Committee decided to focus on six areas; battery, disruption, fighting, insubordination, profanity, and trespassing. Along with those six areas it was decided they would also focus on students with BIPs who are educable mentally handicapped, emotionally handicapped, have a specific learning disability, and have other health impairments.
