Instruction

The School Board of Lee County believes that instructional practices are effective only when student learning occurs. Instructional practices shall be based on the following research-based tenets of learning:

- (1) Students learn more when they develop and set their own challenging but achievable goals.
- (2) Learning is developmental.
- (3) Individuals learn differently.
- (4) Learning increases when students interact and collaborate with each other.
- (5) Students need feedback to learn.
- (6) Students learn more when they are taught strategies for learning.
- (7) A positive climate strengthens learning.
